

(U//FOUO) GIS Day at NSA

FROM: SIGINT Communications
Unknown
Run Date: 11/17/2003

(U//FOUO) You are invited to attend GIS Day at NSA, November 19th from 0800-1600 hours in the Friedman Auditorium. The theme of this event is "GIS [Geographic Information Systems]: Enabling Analysis & Empowering Customers."

(U//FOUO) The presentations, sponsored by the Geospatial Exploitation Office (GEO), in coordination with the Geographic Resource Center, Advanced Analysis Laboratory, Intelligence Analysis Skill Community, and the GIS Solutions Division, will focus on NSA's migration strategy from legacy government mapping applications to modern commercial tools. They will also provide overviews of our efforts to transition from ArcView 3.x to ArcGIS 8.x. In addition, they will highlight various analytic techniques using GIS and our corporate activities supporting GIS capabilities on the desktop.

(U) For additional information and registration information, see the gis-day page (or type "go gis-day").
