(S) Here's some feedback on yesterday's article SIGINT via Tablet PC?:

From: [REDACTED] ([REDACTED]), Special U.S. Liaison Office London

Comment: (U//FOUO) This article was brought to my attention today. I have been working with S122 to pilot Tablet PCs here in London with our more than 50 customers. Thank you for featuring this initiative. I expect it to be a success here on many levels -- one, we will be able to better represent NSA as a technologically advanced Agency; two, it will allow me to invest more intellectual capital into my activities to be better informed to assist my customers each; and, lastly, free me to spend more time on other important aspects of the liaison officer job, to include providing more feedback.
